Eight cubic yards of compost were delivered to Glacier Park Elementary's gardens Thursday morning, as part of a "Compost Days" celebration with Cedar Grove Composting and King County Solid Waste division.

Members of the GPES green team, along with other students, staff and volunteers, began work enriching the soil in the school gardens with the compost. We'll have more on this event in our next issue of Tahoma Matters.

Local writer, Kathleen Kear, retells the delightful story Bird with the Broken Wing

The story was one of many stories handed down from her grandma, who enjoyed telling stories to her children and grandchildren so very many years ago.

If you would like one these wonderful books here is how you get one.

Books are only $11 (includes tax)
