NO PLASTIC

Food Scraps and Wooden Utensils

Uncoated Paper

Yard Debris

Collecting food scraps at work is easy! Here's how:

Set up centralized collection stations, using large or small collection containers.

A stylish compost pail.

A reusable kitchen container, or tall collection bin.

Visit recyclefood.com for a list of compostable bag retailers near your business.

Empty collected food scraps into your compost cart regularly. Your compost will be picked up weekly on your collection day.

Setting Up Compost in the Workplace

1 Form a Green Team

A Green Team is a dedicated group of employees will set up and monitor compost collection.

2 Do a deep dive to find compostables

Take a good look at what's going into your garbage. Common compostables you might see:

- Waxed cardboard
- Coffee filters and grounds
- Food scraps and leftovers
- Plant and floral trimmings
- Napkins, paper towels, paper bags
- Wooden stir sticks and chopsticks

3 Contact your business or property manager

Find out if compost collection is set up. If not, ask for collection and remind your manager that composting can reduce waste disposal costs.

If service is set up, discuss how to increase visibility and participation.

4 Contact Waste Management

Visit www.wmnorthwest.com or call 1-800-592-9995 to set up workplace compost collection.

5 Coordinate collection with the janitorial crew and workplace staff

- Select and set-up indoor collection bins in kitchens, lunchrooms, garden centers and anywhere compost is generated.
- Label containers. Order educational posters and flyers at wmnorthwest.com
- Work with janitorial staff to set a daily collection schedule for collecting compostables from workstations.
- Meet the staff who are collecting compostables and make sure they understand how to recognize the dedicated compost bins and compostable bags.
- Monitor containers and procedures to keep compostables separated from garbage and recycling.

6 Educate and motivate staff

- Distribute guidelines to employees and janitorial staff, and post updates
- Grab attention with a launch event.
- Plan a fun kick-off event with information about the workplace compost program.
- Send a memo encouraging participation.
- Set aside time for questions and answers.
- Schedule orientation sessions for individual departments.

7 Maintain and expand green programs

- Have your green team meet regularly to evaluate progress.
- Implement other sustainable practices, including waste prevention, energy conservation and alternative transportation.
- Encourage and remind staff with periodic recycling tips and updates.
- Educate new employees about composting.
- Appoint someone to answer staff questions, manage the Green Team and oversee sustainability programs.
- Always mention composting practices in company promotional pieces.
